AUSTRALIAN FLIER WITHIN 150 MILES OF COAST THIS AFTERNOON, LONDON HEARS

News is Unofficial and Comes to the Sopwith Airplane Company; Flagship of Commander John H. Towers Located.

CONCERN FELT FOR AMERICAN IS RELIEVED

By Associated Press.

LONDON, May 19.—Harry G. Hawker, in his airplane, has been sighted off Ireland, according to an unofficial report received by the American Navy here.

The Sopwith Airplane company has received a report that Hawker was 150 miles off the Irish coast at 5 P. M.

The air ministry announced shortly after 5 o'clock that it had no confirmation of the report that Hawker was off Ireland at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The lost naval seaplane NC 3, commanded by Commander J. H. Towers, lost in mid-Atlantic since 5:15 Saturday morning, was today reported to the Navy Department proceeding toward Ponta Delgada under her own power, seven miles from land. This message was received at the Navy Department early this afternoon from Rear Admiral Jackson at Ponta Delgada.

"The NC 3 located seven miles north of Ponta Delgada under her own power."

The message was filed at 12:10 P. M. Washington time, and while it made no mention of the crew naval officials were certain that Commander Towers and his four men were safe. Details of the men's experience on the plane during the more than 48 hours they spent in the air and storm were expected soon after the NC 3 reached Ponta Delgada.

Admiral Jackson's reports were taken here to mean that Commander Towers, after having been forced to land on the water by a heavy sea, had driven forward and eastward by the storm until he was able to land his craft safely on the surface, probably 500 miles from the point where fog had forced him down when within a short distance of the "landfall" at the Azores.

HORTA, May 19.—The crew of the NC 1 was picked up by the steamer Tona Saturday afternoon after they had been tossed about in the water for five hours in the damaged plane. All the members were fatigued and suffering from seasickness when picked up. The plane is a total loss.

HORTA, May 19.—The NC 4 was tuning up this afternoon preparatory for its flight to Ponta Delgada.

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, May 19.—A report was received here at noon today (10:30 A. M. New York time) that Harry G. Hawker's Sopwith airplane had been sighted off the Irish coast. There was great rejoicing by his assistants here, and Frederick P. Rayham, his rival, whose transatlantic start came to grief here yesterday immediately cabled congratulations.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Harry G. Hawker, who started across the Atlantic yesterday, is an Australian, 27 years old. He began his career as a mechanic and arose to the rank of a flier under the tutelage of Sopwith, one of the earliest British airmen.

METHODISTS RAISE $40,000 IN A FEW HOURS' CAMPAIGN

Unexpected Results Come in Effort to Secure Quota of $27,000 Here.

MCCAIRNS GIVES $2,500

Chairman in the Movement Heads the List; J. Smith Donor Subscribes $1,000; 30 Give $500 Each; Dawson and Bryan Churches Over the Top.

Solicitors in the Centenary drive of the Methodist Episcopal church in Connellsville set out yesterday afternoon to raise the five-year quota of $27,000. They returned in the evening with subscriptions aggregating $40,203, an over-subscription of 48 percent. Three hundred eighty-eight persons were seen. There remain 148 yet to be solicited, according to the report made at the evening service.

James McCairns, centenary chairman, led in the subscriptions with an individual pledge of $2,500. J. Smith Donnell gave $1,000. There were 30 pledges of $500 each, or $15,000 per year. Of this number 17 were secured by Rev. G. L. C. Richardson, the pastor.

Good reports were received from various parts of the McKeesport district of which Connellsville is a part, by Chairman E. W. Hornor of this city. Mr. Hornor reported $25,195 subscribed at Dawson, the quota of which is $17,950. Bryan church, attached to the Dawson charge, subscribed $3,134 against its quota of $2,355. Vanderhill raised its quota of $2,300 and is still going ahead. McKeesport reported 50 per cent. raised.

At Scottdale the latest figures show about two-thirds of the quota of $34,000 subscribed, though earlier reports made it only $17,500. No reports had been received from Dunbar and Uniontown, or from farther out in the district.

STATE CONSTABLES AFTER SPEEDERS AT POPLAR GROVE

Four Officers on Job Sunday. Many License Numbers Are Noted Down.

ONE USES A REVOLVER

Driver of Car Fails to Stop for Plain Clothes Man and is Confronted With Another in Uniform With a Gun; Crusade Due to Complaint by Public.

If Connellsville motorists get notices in a few days that they have exceeded the state speed limit, accompanied by a request that fines be paid, it will be for the high rate at which they drove their cars over the new road north of the city Sunday. Four state policemen were stationed along that road yesterday to nab offenders and quite a few are understood to have come under the eye of the law, principally near Poplar Grove.

Two of the police were in uniform and the other two were in plain clothes. They did not make any open arrests but when a machine traveling at a rate of speed in excess of the law went by, but noted the license numbers. They made use of stop watches on measured stretches.

Excessive speeding on the new road has been reported and recently two girls were injured by a motorcycle as they stepped from a street car at Coalbrook. This accident, it was contended, was due to excessive speed of the cyclist and persons living in that district are understood to have taken action towards having the speeding cut down.

The road north of the city has just recently been completed and it is a fine course for automobile travel. With it growing the popularity and becoming more dangerous as the number of speeders using it grows, the action of the state constabulary in taking numbers is considered the first step towards regulating the travel.

It is not known before what afternoon the information against the speeders will be made but this will likely develop in a few days.

Two of the police were stationed near the Swaugertown road and the other two at Coalbrook. On one occasion when a motorist did not stop at the signal from one of the plain clothes men, a uniformed officer held him up with a revolver. In another instance an ice cream truck from Connellsville, traveling without a license, was also stopped but other cars were allowed to go on, only their numbers being taken.

By evening, it is said, automobiles were just creeping along, the word having gone about that the cops were stationed along the road. Sergeant Murphy was in charge of the officers. The others were Privates Davis, Reitenauer and Stone.

ANNUAL ART EXHIBIT

Public School Event Scheduled for Next Friday and Saturday.

The annual exhibit of the drawing domestic art and manual training departments of the Connellsville public schools will be given Friday and Saturday in the high school building. Invitations to the parents of the students to attend will go out immediately.

The exhibition, which is attracting growing interest from year to year, promises to be by far the best ever put on and both students and instructors are working hard to have everything perfected for the opening. The exhibition on Friday will be in the evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. On Saturday it will be in the afternoon, the hours being between 2 and 4 o'clock.

Miss Mary Brickman, drawing instructor, Miss Mary Gans and Miss Anne Donnelly, domestic art instructors, and Arthur Skomp, the manual training instructor, will be in charge of the exhibit.

The work of the students in the three special departments during the past year will be placed on view, each department having its own section. The exhibition will include specimens of wood work and building done in the manual training department, also sewing, cooking and household decoration as the domestic arts section and drawing.

SESSION OPENS WITH THE G. O. P. IN FULL CONTROL

Organization Principal Work For Today; Much to Be Disposed Of.

APPROPRIATIONS FIRST

Financial Measures Were Held Up by Filibuster Last March; Situation in National Body Unusual in That the Chief Executive is a Democrat.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The "reconstruction" Congress, assembling in extraordinary session at noon today under the call issued by President Wilson from Paris May 7, marks the return to power of the Republicans and loss by the Democrats of control over the national legislative body.

Organization of both Senate and House by the new majority was today's principal business.

The immediate work before the Congress, the 66th of the American republic, is passage before July 1 of several regular annual appropriation bills which failed in the filibuster last March.

After that will come consideration of the peace treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations and railroads, shipping, revenue, woman's suffrage, prohibition, army and navy and much other legislation.

Republicans today for the first time since 1911 had majorities in both branches of Congress as a result of the congressional elections last November.

With President Wilson's removal the change in the political complexion of Congress presented a situation similar to that during the last two years of former President Taft's administration when there was a Democratic House and to President Cleveland's administration in which there was a Republican Congress.

OFFICIAL NEWS LACKING

Return of Company D Before End of Week Not Anticipated.

While there has been no official announcement concerning the dates for the demobilization of the 110th Infantry at Camp Dix, it is not likely that the members of this outfit will get home until the end of the week. The delay in handing out the discharges is keenly felt by the members of that unit of the Iron Division as it had been their impression they would be home by now.

The soldiers said last week was the longest of their lives but now they are finding the days drag even more slowly. It had been hoped that the men would be discharged by Wednesday or Thursday providing the 107th Field Artillery was released today or tomorrow. It now seems, however, that the artillery will not get away until midweek, making the 110th later.

The 110th Infantry is now the only part of the 28th Division acting as a complete unit. No part of it whatever has been released.

Local persons just back from Philadelphia say all the Connellsville boys are looking fine, although some soldiers do not present such a good appearance of health.

SCOTSDALE GIRL DROPS $35 IN SEWER; ALL BUT DOLLAR IS RECOVERED FROM RIVER

As she stopped from the 7 o'clock car at Brimstone Corner Saturday evening and started down street Miss Edith Percy of Eleanor avenue, Scottdale, dropped her pocketbook. It slipped along on the bricks for a moment and then disappeared from view in the sewer drop just above the corner. Street Inspector William McCormick happened to be near the corner. He secured an electric flashlight and attempted to locate the missing property, but in vain. During the evening and yesterday he kept watch at the terminal of the sewer at the river without result.

This morning Mr. McCormick decided to try flushing the sewer from the hydrant at the corner, while he and members of the street force

FORMER NEW HAVEN AND DAWSON BOY HAS BEEN LONG IN SERVICE

The visit to Connellsville on Saturday of the Army Recruiting automobile had more than ordinary interest for a number of persons who recognized or learned that Captain Ira N. Craig, the officer in charge, was an old New Haven and Dawson boy. When a youngster he resided on what is now the West Side, later removing to Dawson. For the past 15 years he has been in the service, twelve of which he was an enlisted man.

At the outbreak of the war he received his commission and was assigned to duty with the Headquarters Company, 263rd Infantry, at Camp Funston. Later he was transferred to the 31th Cavalry at Fort Riley, Kas. This unit was changed into the 88th Field Artillery and placed in training at Camp Knox, Captain Craig being in command of Battery D. Later he was assigned to the 320th Ammunition Train which organization was scheduled for overseas duty but was not sent because the signing of the armistice came too soon. Captain Craig was then assigned to recruiting duty and detailed as assistant recruiting officer in the Pittsburgh district, beginning April 1. He has been placed in charge of advertising and is making a tour of the sub-districts in the recruiting car.

Accompanying Captain Craig was Corporal O. C. Hackett, in charge of the recruiting station at Uniontown. Corporal Hackett served four years in the Navy and is now in his fourth year with the Army. He has been on recruiting duty at Altoona, Greensburg and Uniontown. He secured a transfer to the Second Infantry and was training at Camp Dodge, Ia., in preparation for overseas duty, for which the regiment was scheduled, but the order was cancelled by the signing of the armistice. He has been stationed at Uniontown since May 5 during which time he has secured 12 recruits.

Mrs. Martha McGee, division director of the Red Cross in charge of this great undertaking, will deliver an address entitled "The Care of Disabled Soldiers." A musical program to precede the address will be provided. T. J. Hooper, chairman of the Connellsville branch, will preside.

KILLED IN ELEVATOR

Mrs. Bruce Donaldson, Springfield Township, Falls Down Shaft.

While visiting her sister at Dixon on Saturday, Mrs. Sadie G. Donaldson, 32 years old, of Springfield township, fell down an elevator shaft and was killed. The unfortunate woman was the wife of Bruce E. Donaldson and a daughter of the late Jacob and Elizabeth Ritenour.

The body was brought to Connellsville and removed to Funeral Director J. E. Sims' parlors. Later it was taken to the family home.

The funeral service will be at 11 o'clock tomorrow at the United Brethren church at Normalville.

watched the terminal. First, George Martin, who was with the inspector, spilled a part of the money, two dollar bills and a two-dollar bill floating together in an eddy above the mouth of the sewer. Martin waded out and recovered it. A minute later Mr. McCormick's eyes discerned another patch of green. Martin waded out after this and recovered six $5 bills bound together by moisture.

In the pocketbook besides the paper there was some silver, about $35, in all, Miss Percy said. There were two pocketbooks, one inside the other. They were not to be found. The action of the water evidently had opened them and tossed out the contents, presumably.

DISTILLERY BURNS TWICE; INCENDIARIES AT WORK, IS BELIEF

Plant in East Apple Street Badly Damaged When Flames Break Fourth Second Time.

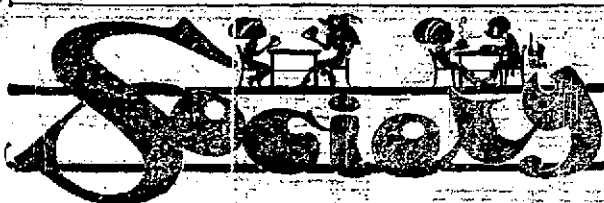

The Connellsville Distillery in East Apple street was the scene of two fires on Saturday night and early Sunday morning, when someone, supposedly copper thieves trying to steal the copper from the large coils stored in the building, set fire to it in exactly the same spot at 9:55 o'clock Saturday night and at 3:15 Sunday morning. The members of the fire department are positive that the fire was completely extinguished when they left the scene Saturday night, owing to the fact that they left an axe near the building and about 11 o'clock went back after it and at the same time examined the building.

Fire Chief W. E. DeBolt said this morning that he could not understand how the perpetrators managed to fire the place the second time, as the men had played the hose over that part of the building until it was thoroughly soaked and the only way that it would be possible to set it on fire would be to use gasoline.

V. J. Clark of the Connellsville garage called the fire department the first time and then took a hand extinguisher to the building and worked until the trucks arrived. The second time the sky was all lighted up before the truck left the station on the West Side, nobody seeming to know anything about the fire until it was almost beyond control. The firemen worked over two hours and a half before they had the blaze completely extinguished. The estimated damage done to the building is not over $500.

$1,442,000 subscribed the first day in the Pittsburg area against the quota of $7,500,000. The drive has a week to run.

The reports from the various teams in Connelleville were as follows:

No. 1, A. A. Clarke, captain—53 subscriptions with 24 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $5,416.00.

No. 2, George W. Campbell, captain—60 subscriptions with 12 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $4,700.00.

No. 3, Evelyn Buttermore, captain—55 subscriptions with 10 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $5,588.88.

No. 4, S. B. Henry, captain—33 subscriptions with 20 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $3,360.00.

No. 5, J. B. Davis, captain—33 subscriptions with 13 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $3,124.60.

No. 6, W. G. Kaufman, captain—24 subscriptions with five yet to be seen and a total subscription of $3,101.00.

No. 7, John F. McCoy, captain—23 subscriptions with 13 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $4,915.80.

No. 8, A. B. Kurtz, captain—27 subscriptions with 20 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $2,341.00.

No. 9, W. H. Thomas, captain—34 subscriptions with 20 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $2,388.00.

No. 10, James McCreary, captain—35 subscriptions with 20 yet to be seen and a total subscription of $5,670.00.

A large audience was present last night to hear the reports from the teams. This is considered a great achievement for the Methodist church when it is considered that the congregation is planning the erection of a new edifice in the immediate future at a cost of not less than $125,000.

The pastor has been so busy with helping the other fellows over the top as an advance solicitor for large gifts that he was unable to give his own church the attention it merited. The credit for this splendid achievement is due to the careful planning of the local campaign manager, James McCairns and the campaign director, S. P. Ashe, together with systematic and painstaking labors of the team captains and their devoted assistants. No time was lost in having to explain the purpose of the centenary, for months of educational work had prepared the way. The people were all ready when the solicitors came and the subscription was soon obtained. The Connelleville press has helped not a little also in making the drive a success. Much praise has been gratefully given from day to day, which is appreciated by the local society and the church at large.

NEGRO METHODISTS BREAK GROUND FOR PROPOSED CHANGES

Leading Men of Church in This Section Here for Exercises on West Side Sunday.

Ground-breaking exercises, preliminary to remodeling, were held yesterday afternoon at the colored Methodist Episcopal church on the West Side. In the morning at 11 o'clock the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. G. W. Allen, of Nashville, Tenn., editor of the Southern Christian Recorder and father of the present pastor. At 3:30 o'clock the services were opened with singing by the congregation and a prayer by Rev. Dr. J. T. Moore of Scotland.

Rev. A. J. Allen of this city read the Scripture. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. J. H. Daybridge of West Newton, after which the choir of the church chanted the Lord's Prayer. Mayor John Duggan delivered an address to the congregation of the church congratulating them. A vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Josephine Clifford, after which Rev. Allen of Nashville and Rev. Dr. W. H. Butler of Washington, Pa., presiding elder of the Washington district, delivered short addresses.

The congregation then arose and went outside the building to the scene of the ceremony and after a short song, a small spade was brought forth by the pastor and presented to Mrs. Hattie Campbell and Mrs. Elsie Gardner, the two oldest members of the congregation who broke the first ground for the excavation. The consecration prayer was then given by the pastor, Rev. Allen, and the congregation was dismissed.

The spade used in the ceremony by the two ladies will be auctioned off to help raise money for the building. Beginning yesterday the Payne A. M. E. Church of the West Side started a three-months drive to raise $2,000 to pay for the remodeling of the church. Plans which were made several months ago to improve the appearance of the property are being carried out daily. The church has been raised and work will be begun immediately now to excavate for an eight foot basement underneath. Other improvements are being made including painting, wiring and papering the inside of the church and the addition of a study for the pastor, who is Rev. A. J. Allen.

POPULAR PITTSBURGH ENGINEER AND HIS WIFE ALL RUN DOWN

William Bolen, 1411 Page Street, Pittsburg, Relates True Story.

Considerable talk has been stirred up locally by the wonderful relief that Mr. William Bolen, who resides at No. 1411 Page street, North Side, and who is employed by the Union Ice Co., as engineer, and is well known there, has received by means of Plant Juice. He stated:

"My wife and I have been in poor health for some time. We were both nervous and restless and could not sleep at night. In fact we were both in a 'run-down' condition. Our appetites were very poor, and what food we would eat would ferment, causing gases to form. We had tried various kinds of medicine, but nothing seemed to help us. I had been reading in the daily papers about Plant Juice, and thought I would purchase a bottle. My wife and I both have taken it, and it has done us lots of good. We both eat well now and our food does not distress us. In fact, our general health has greatly improved, and we are both very grateful for our recovery to health."

Plant Juice is sold in Connelleville at Roy Hetzel's Drug Store.—Adv.

They break up colds, relieve feverishness, constipation, teething disorders, headache and stomach troubles. They are the best for over 25 years. THESE POWDERS GIVE SATISFACTION. All Drug Stores. Don't accept any other kind.

TO ADD TO HER TROUSSEAU

Pink roses and blue ribbons—rioles from those quaint little porcelain shepherdesses—combined with fine lace make this clever cap. Most important of all in the robe are the strange little caplike sleeves that are daintily hemstitched on. It is a slip-over affair though there are long, tieable ribbons of blue and more blue to edge neck and sleeves. A ruffle of lace keeps close to the ribbon bindings. Pink Georgia is the material used.

For Burning Eczema

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any drugist for 35c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

HAVE LEARNED A FINE ART.

The people of Conneltsville have learned the fine art of giving; not done of giving of their means, but in giving service, and giving in a largehearted, generous way. This virtue has recently been so splendidly demonstrated that the community can very properly take pride in the things that are being done.In responding to the calls on the Liberty bond issues the people were prompted by a patriotic desire to support the government in a practical way, while also exercising the prudence to make a secure investment.In contributing to the Red Cross, Y.
M. C. A., K. of C. and other war-time organizations they were giving expression to the wish in their hearts that the men in the service might not lack anything that would contribute to their comfort and well-being.The lessons learned in these campaigns have served as a preparation in temper and spirit of the people to meet the large needs of a restoration of peace conditions, in that they have come to understand that the possession or acquisition of means,
either large or small, is a stewardship for which an accounting must be made. Taking the cue from the unselfish giving up of everything by the young men who went out to fight in the cause of human freedom, the people here at home have had a new vision of duty and service and they are furnishing living proof that it is influencing their lives to do and to give in behalf of others in a larger measure than they ever thought possible.This willingness and large-heartedness has had its latest manifestation in Conneltsville in the splendid achievements of the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant and Presbyterian church which have conducted campaigns solely for missionary activities, outside of their local budgets, with such remarkable success.
In every instance the quotas have been exceeded and in the case of the Methodist Episcopal church very nearly doubled. A significant fact in each case has been that the people have been found both ready and anxious to have a part in the great undertakings that are to be entered upon by their respective church organizations.
The canvassing has been completed in practically a few hours, showing not only the effectiveness of organization in the campaigns but also that the members of the congregation have given thought to and preparation for their part as individuals. That quite as much as the amounts raised is the thing for which the members of these several congregations are deserving to be congratulated.PEOPLE WILL COME INTO THEIR OWN.With the assemblage of Congress today the people will again come into their own. The Republican majority, elected last November in protest against the dictatorship of the head of the Democratic party who had previously been regarded as President of the United States, is assurance to a much-burdened people that the Congress which has been elected in extraordinary session will be a business session, devoting its energies to the great problems toward the solution of which the last Congress made no constructive effort.The appropriation bills which failed in the last session, because of the lack of industry upon part of the Democratic leaders in Congress,
"will be given consideration first, as is right," says the Pittsburgh Gazette Times. "Then the lawmakers will address themselves to the essential business of removing the burdens which the war emergency, plus the Socialistic tendencies of the Wilson administration, has saddled on the country.
Among the contemplated legislation are bills for the restoration of telephones and telegraphs and the railroads to private control under a live and let live system of public regulation, abolition of the almost so-called luxury taxes a budget system designed to promote economies in government, revision of the tariff and measures of benefit to the soldiers and veterans. These are only a few of the subjects to be disposed of, but the list includes most of those on the future prosperity of the country depends.
Business will be encouraged by the prospect. And we may be confident it will not be disappointed in the results of Congress work."

THE "Y" MEMBERSHIP DRIVE.

The campaign to increase the membership of the Baltimore & Ohio Y.
M. C. A., which began yesterday, will have the sympathetic interest and it ought also to have the active support of every citizen of Conneltsville who has any concern whatever about pro-viding those agencies and influences which are a means of promoting and safeguarding the welfare of young men.The Young Men's Christian Association as a whole has a splendid record upon which to make an appeal for support through an enlarged membership. The local association of the railroad branch has made a fine start and has provided such excellent facilities for the use of its membership that it would be a distinct misfortune
if a very much larger number of men are not induced to avail themselves of the many advantages offered.The membership campaign in Conneltsville is a part of a nation-wide drive conducted by railroad men for railroad men under the direction of the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association. The broad aim of the campaign is "through unselfish service to cement in loyalty, contentment and happiness this great body of men and boys in a definite program for the welfare of all."The objective of the Baltimore & Ohio associations is to increase the membership to 150,000. It is a big undertaking but through the systematic campaign that has been planned it can be taken for granted the job will be completed. The local teams are under skilled leadership, have been well organized and go to their task with enthusiasm. They are entitled to a cordial reception and their solicitation for members should have a hearty response. Remembering the spirit of cooperation with which the people of Conneltsville have learned to do things the prediction can safely be made that the "Y" membership drive will go over the top in fine form. No doubt about it if you do the small part that may be required of you.The joy experienced over the success of the NC-A in safely making the Azores must be tempered by regret if the plucky crew of the NC-3 fails to make port.Count Rantzau has ranted so much over the peace treaty that he has even fallen out with his brother delegates and gone home in a pout. That makes little difference. Almost any other name on the document will look as good as his and perhaps be just as effective and binding.The speedway races are of very ordinary interest compared with the contest to make "planes across the sea."The fight on the prohibition enforcement and alcohol content measures between the "drys" and "wets" in the legislature tonight may create both dust and fog to such an extent that nobody will be flying before the end is reached.

Biggest Problem Before Congress.

By Henry Clews.

After organizing the biggest problem before Congress will be the railroad. The situation of this vast interest requires immediate attention. It represents about $20,000,000,000 of capital and approximately one-tenth of our national wealth. Were it not for the fact that they are backed by the United States Treasury, our railroads would be in a bad way, which is reality not the fault of the railroads themselves or the lack of freight business.Before the war the drift was seen and when the stress of mobilization was added their breakdown was to be expected. The war has only made their position worse through a heavy increase of expenses, which raised operating costs to the ruinous ratio of almost 50 per cent. In the year before the war, under private management, gross earnings were $11,000,000, and net $214,500,000; while this year, under government management, the net was only $35,000,000, though gross mounted to $1,050,000,000. Government operation has proved unsuccessful financially, while railroad efficiency fell to the lowest standards in many years, notwithstanding largely increased rates. Added to this is the physical deterioration of the roads, aggravated by war, which will call for heavy outlays in repairs. Congress may take early action in restoring the roads to their owners, which according to promises the government must do in as good condition as when taken over.The railroads will in due season be put on their feet and their general status strengthened. The lesson has a close bearing upon the efforts to bring other public utilities, such as wire service, trolley, lighting companies, etc., under public ownership.
It has been proved very effectively that private enterprise, with all its faults, gives better and cheaper service than the government, which almost invariably compels the taxpayer to pay the losses.

has been intelligently used and well

things—they want to know that prop-

papers will always tell the news-things—the calamity howls—for that is what men call news. They don't tell anything about the contented workmen, and very little about their savings bank accounts.But American manufacturers should begin to put another element into their advertising. Just as John Wanmaker puts in his editorial every day—and finds that it pays—national advertisers should add the vital human touch.Every factory that is working steady-ly has a mighty vital story to tell, which, multiplied by several thou-

the nation has ever known!When 25,000,000 contented workers get their story into the newspapers it will soon wipe out the insidious infection that is now growing from the constant printing of nothing but the news about the discontent of alien enemies whom we seek their own livelihood of American workers.Let American business men aggressively promote their own busi-pleasant working conditions of their own employees, and how they are earning their own homes and accumu-

men legislation that will command the deportation of these venomous repulsi who seek to create labor un-ernment.Then let us all get together—advertisers, newspapers—editors, business managers, special writers—and sell prospering, happy, industrious and contented America to ourselves and to every true American, and silence and deport the rest!Then if Russia, Germany and any other insane, vermin-ridden country has to burn itself to ashes to get rid of its pestilence, let's determine that it shall never happen to us, because we were too listless, or too short-sighted to utterly destroy the rats, or too weak-spined to close our doors to further vehicles of contagion.Let's get back our railroads, our your job to "keep business going, for

BUD'S SPECIAL DIET.

Aunt fond of potatoes much.

An' parsnips I don't like at all;

Don't care for sparragus an' such

Greer stuff we have when strangers

call.

Though Ma says they are good for me,

An' allus piles my plate up high

With vegetables, I can't see

Why I can't live on apple pie

I never pass my plate for more

When we have spinach, you can bet.

An' carrots I'm not asking for.

Enough of them I always get.

I don't care much for bread an' meat.

I'd just as soon they'd pass me by.

But I can't get enough to eat

Whenever we have apple pie

Ma makes me eat a lot of stuff,

That I'd get out of, if I could.

She says I never eat enough

Of things that really do me good.

She allus butters bread for me

An' I can't see the reason why

A dandy, eater I would be

If all we had wuz apple pie

When I grow up to be a man

An' have a little boy of eight,

I'll never put potatoes on

A lot of carrots on his plate.

Beccuz I know just how that feels

An' I won't want to make him cry.

When he sits down to eat his meals

I'll him up on apple pie

"DE LUKE ANNIE."—Presenting Norma Talmadge in her latest Select picture, is being shown today. The picture was adapted from the play by Paul West from the play by Edward Clark and directed by Roland West. Miss Talmadge has never appeared to better advantage than in this absorbing play of criminal life with a surpassing psychological ending. As Julie Kendal, the wife of a prominent lawyer who is interested in the workings of criminal minds, whom a blow on the head turns adrift on the world, a total victim of amnesia, Miss Talmadge registers a tremendous hit in a most realistic portrayal. She becomes the confederate of Jimmy Fitzpatrick and, with him, operates the de-luxe book game, a variant of the old badger game. Later, although his face seems strangely familiar, she meets her husband, treats him as a stranger and seeks to victimize him. Ignorant of his real purpose, she evades the detective whom her husband had retained to trace her, and subconsciously flees to the little town in which the summer home of the Kendals is situated. There a surprising but altogether logical chain of events brings her to the house where her husband and his friend, Dr. Niblo, meet her and her confederate. An operation restores her memory, and with it, the happy family which had blessed the home of the Kendals before the catastrophe. Eugene O'Brien and Frank Mills appear in the support of Miss Talmadge. A selected comedy is also being shown Wednesday and Thursday Dorothy Phillips

"HEART OF HUMANITY"

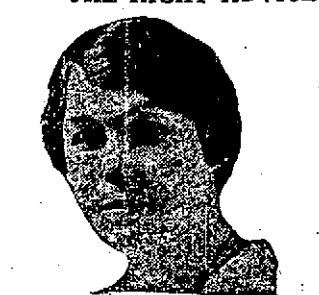

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THAT'S GOOD."—An interesting story of a wise young man thought foolish by his neighbors because of his complacent outlook on life, is being shown today. Hale Hamilton is seen in the leading role, supported by Stella Gray and other players of prominence. The play deals with the adventures of the young man who is the proprietor of a flourishing gent's emporium in a small town. He believes in accepting and enjoying the gifts the gods provide without demanding more. That his opinion extends further afield is shown when a clique of city crooks put his name on their "sucker list" and consider him their next easy mark. To achieve their ends they enlist the services of a beautiful girl but this only makes endless complications which result in the rout of the crooks and the triumph of the young man. The play is amusingly and cleverly enacted. An exact reproduction of one of New York's most famous roof gardens which attracts both the tired and business men and the hundreds of out of town visitors to its nightly revels will be seen in the picture. Dancing girls, singing girls, girls on bicycles and in fact all of the varied and unusual entertainments seen on this noted roof, will be featured. A selected comedy is also being shown. Tomorrow Bessie Love will be presented in "A Yankee Princess."

GRANDMA GAVE HER THE RIGHT ADVICE

Mrs. Elsie Genk, 302 Duncannon St., Philadelphia, says she's glad she listened to the advice of her grandmother. "I suffered from stomach trouble and nervousness. My appetite was bad and I couldn't sleep. I suffered from pains at the heart. While I was in this condition my grandmother, Mrs. Miller, told me about Tanlac and advised me to try it. I bought some and now I know from my appearance and the way I feel that I've gotten back my health. I only took six bottles of Tanlac. I sleep and eat better. Tanlac has done me so much good. It's a great spring tonic."

The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is now sold here by Beigley's, Harmoning's and Connelville Drug stores and other leading druggists in every community.

COAL OFFICIALS HELD

Stockholders Allege Fraud on Part of Uniontown Men.

Three officials of the Presto Coal Mining company of Uniontown are accused of false pretense by six stockholders of the company. Emil Peters, secretary and treasurer, was arrested Friday and later released on bail for a hearing before Alderman J. J. Michaels. Warrants for the arrest of W. D. O'Donnell of Gary, Ind., president, and John Wrennick of Uniontown, vice president of the company, were issued by Justice of the Peace John C. Reisinger.

The prosecutors, all of whom are foreigners, alleged that the three company officials sold them stock in the concern at $10 a share, promising them houses and five-acre lots on the company property and dividends of not less than 20 per cent. The prosecutors aver that the company officials have not fulfilled their promises.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I decided to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Tiredness, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves. People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind, vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery, to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance, to be not only a man but a man now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—All your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, run-down, weak, asthenic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

BOB MAXWELL THINKS BOSTON BRAVES WILL WIN NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP RACE

A critic has been found who believes in the Boston Braves. He is Bob Maxwell, the Philadelphia Public Ledger expert, who, after making a tour of southern training camps getting impressions for a series of articles on major league prospects, comes out with a strong boost for Stallings' crew.

He says the infield is vastly improved, and will be even better, of course, when Maraville reports; that the pitchers look good, and so forth. With both Maraville and Gowdy back, thinks Maxwell, the Braves will be a first division team. "For the first time in years," he says, "Herzog is trying to make good at second base."

This reads odd to those who look upon Herzog as one of the hardest workers in baseball, whatever else may be said against him.

NEVER DEFEATED

Boston baseball teams have never been defeated in a world's series. In 1903 the Americans beat Pittsburgh; in 1912 they won from the Giants; in 1913 they downed the Phillies; in 1916 the Brooklyn champions were humbled, and last year the Cubs were defeated. In 1914 the Boston Nationals upset the dope by returning Connie Mack's grand team representing the Philadelphia American league in four straight games.

IS ANOTHER CRAZY SCHMIDT

Pitcher Bagby of Cleveland Indians, Keeps Tab on Batters by Book-keeping System.

Every pitcher in the big show has first hand information regarding the hitting ability of every player, but few, if any, have as near perfect a record on the batters as Jim Bagby, one of Lee Fohl's pitching aces. Bagby has a system of baseball bookkeeping that is unique and he has found it valuable in his career as a pitcher. Some years ago when Jim was setting the Southern league on fire he tallied upon the idea of keeping tab on individual batters and also the different teams as a whole. He did this with aid of a pocket memorandum.

After each game Bagby would record the success or failure of this or that batter, adding such notes regarding the batter's style as he deemed useful for future reference and guidance. Jim was so successful that season that he has continued the practice.

The other day Bagby was asked if he still "kept book" on the batters and answered in the affirmative. The same system that worked so well in the Southern league has been just as effective in the American. "Jim" was tipped off a whole heap when he first went up, but is now in a position to rely upon himself and his own experiences and records.

Heinie Schreiber, filling Maraville's shoes with the Braves, is playing such good ball that he will be kept even after "Rabbit" comes back to the diamond.

Manager Harrow gives his men all sorts of talks. Many of them are not exactly along baseball lines, but Billy Sunday would applaud freely if he could sit in and listen.

The Baltimore club announces the sale of first baseman Pug Griffin to Memphis of the Southern league. Joe Slattery held out for more pay on Memphis and this is his answer.

CUETO'S PRESS AGENT

When Manuel Cueto reported to the Cincinnati Reds he brought his own press agent with him in the person of his uncle, Sixto Urquiza, a sugar merchant of Havana. Senor Urquiza was advised to spend the summer in the North and he will do it traveling around with Cueto and incidentally sending back reports of how the Cuban players are faring in the states. Players with the Reds are already declaring the Havana man a prince. It goes without saying he's an enthusiastic fan.

O'Toole, who is a spitballer, asked for the transfer because the moist delivery is barred in the Western league.

McCANN BACK IN BIG LEAGUE

Former Brooklyn Pitcher and Yankee Scout Engaged by Pat Moran as Scout and Coach.

Here's Gene McCann back in the big leagues. Maybe the modern-day big town fan won't remember him. He used to pitch for Brooklyn and later he was a scout for the Yankees. Then he managed minor league teams in New England with great success. Now Pat Moran has engaged him as scout and coach for the Cincinnati Reds.

BALK RULE TO BE ENFORCED

President Heydler Follows San Johnson and Notifies All Team Managers and Umpires.

President John Heydler of the National league has followed President Ben Johnson of the American and sent out notice that this season the balk rule is to be more strictly enforced. Team managers and umpires have received circular letters from Heydler to such effect.

All of the experts have doped the order of the finish of the teams in the two big leagues. But, as in previous seasons, autumn has the last guess.

There seems to be a tendency to make outfielders "captains" this year, as instance George Whitted, Harry Hooper, Zach Wheat, Tris Speaker and so on.

Cleveland writers with the Indians are claiming that Lee Fohl has the American league's best staff of catchers in Steve O'Neill, Leslie Nunamaker and Chester Thomas.

COOLMOR WIND-SAFE PORCH SHADES are the only porch shades that are made with a wide slat alternated with a narrow slat. This patented weave is the ideal construction. It gives all the ventilation desired, which is not possible with "all wide slat" shades—and at the same time thoroughly shades the porch.

COOLMOR Wind-Safe Porch Shades are made of very heavy slats tightly bound together with large seine twine warp. Both edges of each shade are woven with double warps. That is, there are four big, strong seine twine warps at each edge. Most Shades have only two warps at each edge.

The large sizes in COOLMOR Shades have extra warps woven in the middle of the Shades. These extra warps add very greatly to the strength and durability of Coolmor Wind-Safe Porch Shades.

CHAPTER XVI.

Louis d'Epernay. He uttered an oath and took two steps backward, but I saw that he was alarmed and that he realized his helplessness. He flung his hands above his head and stood facing me, surprise and terror twisting his features into a grinning grin.

"I have something of importance to say to you, monsieur," he began.

"I can believe that," I answered. "It is about le Vieil Ange, is it not?"

"By God, I did not mean—I swear to you, monsieur—listen, monsieur, one moment only," he stammered.

"Lower your pistol. You see that I am unarmed!"

I lowered it. "Well, say what you have to say," I said to him.

"Leroux is a devil!" he burst out, with no pretended passion. "I want you to help me, M. Hewlett, and I can help you in a way you do not dream of. M. Hewlett, how much do you think this signet ring is worth?"

"Some half a million dollars, perhaps."

He came close to me and hissed into my ear: "Monsieur, there is more gold in these rocks than anywhere in the world! Look here! Here!"

He stooped down and began tossing pebbles at my feet. But they were pebbles of pure gold and each one of them was as large as the first joint of my thumb. And I had misjudged his courage, I think, for it was avarice and not fear that made him tremble.

"It is everywhere, monsieur!" cried Lacroix. "In this stream, in these hills, too. You can gather a mortal's fortune of earth anywhere and it will show color when it is washed. We found this place together."

"You and Leroux?"

"No! I and—"

He broke off suddenly and eyed me with furtive cunning.

"Yes, yes, monsieur, Leroux and I. And we two worked here together, with nothing more than picks and shovels and mortars and pestles, Leroux and I. There was nobody else."

It was the richest gold deposit in the world, M. Hewlett, and neither Lacroix nor Jean-Peterson knew the secret—only Leroux and I. One cannot light upon this place save by a miracle of chance, such as brought you here. God put this treasure in these hills, and he did not mean it to be found."

I grasped him by the shoulder. "Do you see what this means?" I shouted.

"It means a glorious life!" he cried.

"All the wealth in the world—"

"No, it means death!" I answered.

"It means that if Leroux succeeds in killing me he will kill you too! Do you suppose that he will share his hoard with you?"

"No, M. Hewlett," answered Lacroix quietly. "And that is precisely what I wanted to say to you. You are not a hog like Leroux; I can trust you. Come with me, monsieur. I don't know how you got into the wrong passage, but it is simple—straight ahead. Come with me! I will precede you."

I followed him into the darkness, and very soon heard the sound of the cataract again. And then once more I was standing at the cataract entrance, under a brilliant moon and the chateaux was before me.

I strove steadily across the snow and opened the door in the dark wing, entered the hall and ascended the stairway, took the turn to the right and passed through the little hall. I heard Leroux's harsh voice within, and if I stopped outside it was not in indecision but because I meant to make sure of my man this time.

"I want you, Jacqueline," I heard him say in a voice which betrayed no throb of passion. "And I am going to have you. I always have my way. I am not like that weak fool Hewlett."

"It was I sent him away, not you," she cried. "Do you think he was afraid of you?"

Leroux looked at her in admiration.

"You are a splendid woman, Jacqueline," he said. "I like the way you defy me—by heaven, I do! But you are quite at my mercy. And you are going to yield! You will yield your will to mine—"

"Never!" she cried. "I will die myself into the lake before that shall happen. Ah, monsieur—her voice took on a pleading tone—"why will you not take all we have and let us go? We are two helpless people; we shall never betray your secrets. Why must you have me too?"

"Because I love you, Jacqueline," he cried, and now I heard an undertone of passion which I had not suspected in the man.

He caught her in his arms. She uttered a little gasping cry and struggled wildly and ineffectually in his grasp.

I was quite cold, for I knew that was to be the last of his villainies. I entered the room and walked up to the table, my pistol raised, aiming at his heart, and I felt my own heart beat steadily and the will to kill rise dominant above every hesitation.

Leroux spun round. He saw me, and he smiled his sour smile. He did not flinch, although he must have seen that my hand was as steady as a rock.

"What, you again, monsieur?" he asked mockingly. "You have come back! You are always coming back, aren't you?"

"I have come back to kill you, Leroux," I answered, and pulled the trigger six times.

And each time I heard nothing but the click of the hammer.

Then, with his bull's bellow, Simon was upon me, dashing his fists into my face and bearing me down. My puny struggles were as ineffective as though I had been fighting ten men. He had me on the floor and was kneeling on my chest, and in a trice the other ruffians had come dashing along the hall.

Jacqueline was beating with her little fists upon Leroux's broad back, but he did not even feel the blows.

I heard old Charles Duchaine's pining cries of fear, and then somebody held me by the throat and I was swimming in black water.

"Bring a rope, Raoul!" I heard Simon call.

Half conscious, I knew that I was being tied. I felt the rope tighten upon my wrists and limbs; presently I opened my aching eyes to find myself trussed like a chicken to two legs of the table and Leroux was standing over me, perfectly calm.

"Ah, Paul Hewlett, you are a very poor conspirator indeed," he said. "To try to shoot a man without anything in your pistol. Do you remember how affectionately I put my arm round you when you were sitting in that chair writing your ridiculous check? It was then that I took the liberty of extracting the two cartridges. But I did think you would have sense enough to examine your pistol and reload before you returned."

He picked up a scrap of newspaper from the table and held it before my eyes, deliberately turning up the oil-lamp wick that I might read it. I recognized it at once. It was the clipping from the newspaper, descriptive of the murdered man, which I had cut out in the train and placed in my pocketbook.

"You dropped this, my friend, when you pulled out your pocketbook," said Simon. "You are a very poor conspirator, Paul Hewlett, well!"

"What?" I repeated mechanically.

"Who killed him?" he shouted.

He shook the paper before my eyes and then he struck me across the face with it.

"Who killed Louis d'Epernay?" he yelled, and Jacqueline screamed in fear.

"I did," I answered after a moment.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Little Dagger.

Leroux staggered back against the wall and stood there, scowling like a devil. It was evident that my answer had been totally unexpected.

"Did you know this, madame?" cried Leroux fiercely to Jacqueline.

"Yes," she replied.

"You lied to shield yourself?"

"No, to shield him," she cried. "Because he was my only friend when I was helpless in a strange city. You did not steal my money, did you, Paul?" she added, turning swiftly upon me.

"No, you have paid me. You were keeping it for me."

"You lie, d—n you!" yelled Leroux, and he struck her across the mouth as he had struck me.

I writhed in my bonds. I pulled the heavy table after me as I tried impotently to crawl toward him, sending the wheel flying and all the papers whirling through the air. I cursed Leroux as blasphemously as he was cursing Jacqueline.

And at the door was the pale face of Philippe Lacroix.

Leroux turned on me and kicked me savagely and dragged the table to the far end of the room and struck me repeatedly, while I struggled like a madman. The oaths and execrations that streamed from my lips seemed to be uttered by another man, for I heard them indifferently, or rather something that was I, deep in the maze of my personality, heard them—not that pitiful, puny, goaded thing that fought in its bonds until it ceased, panting and exhausted.

There followed a long silence, while Leroux strode furiously about the room. At last he stopped; he seemed to have made up his mind.

I saw Jacqueline looking at me. I would not meet her gaze, but at last her persistence compelled me. Then I saw her glance toward the wall.

The two broadsword-hung there within arm's reach, above the broken mirror. My heart leaped up at the thought of her valor. She had no mind to yield.

But I shook my head imperceptibly in answer and looked down at my bonds.

I had been trying hard to devise some method of freeing myself. My struggles had relaxed the ropes around my wrists sufficiently to allow my hands two or three inches of movement, and I hoped, by hard work, to loosen them sufficiently to enable me to get at least one hand free.

Then I felt that something hard was pressing into my back, just within reach of my right thumb and forefinger. I let my thumb and finger travel up and down it. It had the form of a tiny knife with a heavy, rounded handle.

And suddenly I knew what it was. It was the knife with which Louis d'Epernay had been killed!

I could just get my finger and thumb round the point of the blade. The ropes scored deeply into my wrists as I worked at it, but I felt the lifting give, and presently I had worked the blade through and had the knife out by the handle.

But it was made for thrusting more than cutting, and I had to pick the ropes to pieces strand by strand.

Jacqueline had been imperceptibly edging away from her father and Leroux; she was now standing immediately beneath the rusty swords. And

THE $13,000,000 SALVATION ARMY POSTER

A man may be down, but he's never out! HOME SERVICE FUND CAMPAIGN SALVATION ARMY MAY 19-26 1919

"A man may be down, but he's never out," the Salvation Army slogan, furnished the theme for the official Home Service Fund Campaign poster designed by Frederick Duncan, the noted artist. From this he has evolved a striking artistic creation, typifying the hand of the Salvation Army reaching out to rescue those who are enshrouded in the clouds of poverty and vice. A Salvation Army lass is the principal figure, and the scarlet lining of her cloak, thrown back as she enfolds those who are calling out to her in distress, furnishes the poster with its one spot of brilliant color. The background is of blacks, grays and greens, indicative of the storm clouds of misery and want.

SALVATION ARMY NEEDS

Annual Budget Shows Reasons for $13,000,000 Drive.

Vast Activities Conducted by 1,000 Corps in United States—Future Plans.

New York.—(Special)—The annual budget of the Salvation Army, containing a detailed and comprehensive statement of the cost of maintaining its varied activities throughout the United States, has been issued from National Headquarters, 122 West Fourteenth street. The statistics show why it is necessary for the "Salvation Army" to go before the American people in the week of May 19 to 26 and ask them to contribute $13,000,000 to its Home Service Fund.

There are 930 corps and outposts of the Salvation Army in the United States. The cost of maintaining these is $2,685,000. The maximum income which these corps may expect from collections in meetings, contributions of members and other outside contributions is $735,000, making the net total cost of supporting the corps $1,970,000.

The cost of maintaining divisional and provincial headquarters, which supervise the work of the local corps, will be, according to the budget, $330,000.

Besides the work of supervising the local headquarters, the provincial and divisional headquarters are in charge of several of the Salvation Army's largest activities, including the operation of fresh air camps for children, relief and employment bureaus and the provincial bands.

Under the heading of "national and territorial obligations" the Salvation Army includes the expenses of maintaining what are among its best known institutions, those which may be grouped under the general name of "social work." For this purpose the Army wants $1,270,000.

The pension fund budget is $400,000. The Salvation Army has determined on the erection of many new buildings, for social work in the future. The building program will require expenditures of $1,575,000.

The remainder of the amount sought for the Home Service Fund is for corps, divisional and provincial buildings and a small contingent fund.

Details of the Salvation Army's activities in the United States for the last year show how remarkable is the scope of the Army's endeavors and what vast numbers of people it serves. For instance, the Army maintains seventy-five hotels for men and women. Last year 1,652,523 persons found sleeping accommodations in these. Beds were supplied for 127,583 children in the Army's four children's homes in the same period, while 48,619 children were sheltered in the slum nurseries. In the industrial homes beds were supplied for 1,742,815. In the rescue homes and maternity hospitals 1,800 girls went under the care of the Army last year.

The Army has 2,918 officers and cadets in the United States. Last year they preached to over 24,000,000 persons.

EVANGELINE BOOTH TELLS HOME SERVICE FUND'S NEEDS.

Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, explaining the purpose of the campaign for $13,000,000 which will be conducted from May 19 to May 26 for the Salvation Army Home Service Fund, said:

"The Salvation Army has been tolling on the upward tread for more than half a century, doing just what it did in France, all in the same spirit and manner, but you did not happen to hear of it, perhaps."

"The war depleted our forces and our finances at home. There must be not only a rehabilitation now, but we must rise to the new high-tide mark and equip ourselves to maintain here in the United States the contracts we were privileged to make on both sides of the sea because of the war."

The Salvation Army Home Service Fund campaign for $13,000,000 will be conducted during the week of May 19-26. Its success will enable the Salvation Army to practically double its efforts among the poor.

The Salvation Army returns from the trenches of France to take up its half century old battle in the trenches of poverty in the United States. Remember, the Salvation Army Home Service Fund campaign for $13,000,000 May 19-26.

The Salvation Army's slogan is "A man may be down, but he's never out!" The "Army" will ask for $13,000,000 during the week of May 19-26. Your contribution will help prove the truth of the slogan.

The success of the Salvation Army Home Service Fund campaign for $13,000,000—May 19-26—means less poverty and less crime in the United States.

RICHEST BOY IN WORLD IS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Vinson Walsh McLean Dies
Soon After Accident at Washington.

WAS HEIR TO 200 MILLIONS

Killed to Sleep in Babyhood in Gold Cradle Reputed to Have Cost the Purchase, Late King Leopold of Belgium, Not Less Than $25,000,000.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Vinson Walsh McLean, the 13-year-old son of Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer, was run down and fatally injured yesterday by an automobile at the McLean summer home at Friendship, near here. The boy, who was the heir to the large estate of John R. McLean and Thomas P. Walsh, and thereby had the reputation of being the richest baby in the world, died a few hours after the accident. The boy was walking along the highway when the accident occurred. A message was sent immediately to his father and mother, who were visiting in Louisville, Ky., and they left for Washington on a special train.

The tragic death of the boy recalled the story of the purchase of the Hope diamond by Mr. McLean in 1911. According to John S. Wise of New York, an agreement was drawn up between Mr. McLean and Pierre Cartier, the Paris jeweler, by which Mr. McLean paid $180,000 for the diamond, with an agreement that should any fatality occur to the McLean family within six months the Hope diamond would be turned back to Cartier for other jewels of equal value. It was said that because of the diamond's ill omen Mr. McLean feared that something might happen to his son.

The McLean boy became internationally famous as the "Gold Cradle Baby" shortly after his birth. At that time King Leopold of Belgium, who had become a partner of Thomas Walsh in the Camp Bird gold mine in Colorado, sent the boy a gold cradle, which, story has it, was valued at $25,000,000.

John D. Rockefeller had at about that time founded the Rockefeller Foundation and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was heir to $60,000,000, but the McLean baby was in line for $200,000,000 fortunes of Thomas P. Walsh and John R. McLean, then owner of the Washington Post, Cincinnati Enquirer, and heavily interested in gas and traction interests.

By a coincidence, it was an automobile accident that left young McLean at his birth the sole heir to these two great fortunes. In 1905, Vinson Walsh, a brother of Mrs. McLean, was killed in an accident at Newport. Mrs. McLean, who was then Miss Evelyn Walsh, also was in the car and received injuries which made her an invalid for a year.

The boy had a private car, elaborately furnished, which carried him to Palm Beach, to California, or wherever he wished to go. He had a half dozen automobiles of his own. He had doctors and nurses, and private detectives to watch over him. Numerous reports were of plans to kidnap him, but he was so closely guarded that no attempt was ever made.

Two other children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. McLean, both boys, one of whom is four and the other a year old. They are left heirs to the estate.

Young McLean was fond of animals. Shortly after his birth 56 Shropshire sheep were sent from Colorado to Bar Harbor by express. He himself directed the purchase of a great flock of White Brahms chickens, ducks and turkeys. A Russian wolfhound, six blooded terriers, two great Danes, and a half score of other dogs and a great number of ponies.

Young McLean was a democratic youth. For several years his boon companion was a small negro boy. His tutors said he was an exceptionally bright student, and he was popular with his mates. He was a favorite with his aunt, Mrs. George Dewey, wife of the late admiral of the navy.
